

To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to write this letter on behalf of Carson Adams. As an ophthalmologist, I have supervised and taught Carson over the past year, during which he has consistently excelled. He has demonstrated a strong work ethic, the ability to quickly learn new skills and responsibilities, excellent leadership abilities, and an eagerness to expand his knowledge in the field of ophthalmology.

In addition to his many strengths, Carson connects with patients on both a personal and professional level. He is an individual who teaches others by example, is inclusive, and consistently exhibits curiosity and motivation to learn. He comes prepared to work every day and on time, enabling Bellingham Bay Ophthalmology to provide the high-quality care that our patients deserve and expect.

Carson has impressed me with his ability to balance a demanding work schedule while pursuing his own personal and professional development. This demonstrates exceptional time management skills and discipline. Beyond prioritizing his own growth, he is mindful of the needs of those around him. He has trained other medical assistants, ensuring they perform at their highest potential, and answers questions from patients and coworkers with kindness, empathy, and a genuine interest in supporting his peers. Carson is a quick thinker and active listener; he consistently strives to be the best he can be. He volunteers to assist with in-office procedures and ensures that the procedure room is fully prepared before I arrive. His ability to balance teamwork with individual responsibility is a rare quality that sets him apart.

Carson's curiosity, drive to learn, and commitment to excellence make him an outstanding candidate for any professional opportunity. I am confident that he will contribute positively wherever he goes and that his work will have a meaningful impact.

In conclusion, I am happy to give Carson Adams my highest recommendation. He is hardworking, open-minded, and dedicated to both personal and professional growth. I am very confident that he will excel in any environment. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions or need further information.

Sincerely,

James M. Kim, M.D.
